

HOW MUCH LONGER WILL POST-COMMUNISM LAST?

To answer the question, I should first clarify the answers to two other questions:

1) To what extent does communism still exist in post-communism (the historical phase that we have been living through for the last thirty years, a phase too contradictory and lacking in personality to have its own name)?

and 2) To what extent is communism still a threat and a risk in post-communism?
